WOMAN'S LOVE

Men cannot love as women do;—they may
Be all devotedness, and seem to live
And breathe but in the idol's sight; may look
On all things she had touched as sanctified;
May think of her all day—dream all the night
Of her fair face, and her remembered voice;
Be feverish—maddened into jealousy,
If she have but a smile that is not their's
May be lured back to tenderness again
By a kind word; may linger on her steps—
Hang on her smiles—but still they cannot love
As women do.—Their love is but a dream,
A witchery—an enchantment—and it dies,
Leaving, perchance, some little lingering light
On the horizon of their thoughts, but not
The glory and the beauty of its dawn!—
But her's! it'it be dreamy, never dream
Had such reality. It doth imbue
The very essence of life—doth tinge
Her heart, her soul, her deeds, her words—doth clothe
Its object with all radiance, and then worship
The glory it hath made: it doth endure
As a fixed star, that sets not.—'Tis her world:
Time cannot change it—it defieth time;
Sorrow doth fail to dim it—like the fire,
That burns the brighter for some sprinkled drops,
Tears do but feed its flame. Neglect, unkindness—
They only prove its truth. Would the smooth cheek
Be pale and withered—the rich hair turn grey—
The lip be parched and fevered—the eye dim,
In the Neglected—if her Love could die?

'CIRCUMSTANCES ALTER CASES.'

BY MISS M. E. WENTWORTH.

Concluded.

It would be injustice to human nature to say that his pride mingled with pleasure with which he beheld his name recorded in the hebdomadals of the cities, by his brethren of the profession, as the possessor of his diligently acquired worth. He was greeted at Belville with enthusiasm, and splendid parties were given him, and pressing invitations and attentons urged upon him every where. The young lady to whom he had once been engaged, was still unmarried, and the fear that her days would be passed in maidenhood, had added no attractions to her features or face. Lynn More studiously avoided her society, and when thrown in her way, was polite, but nothing more. It was quite evident that she thought circumstances had altered cases for the better, and that Lynn More was a most advantageous match, a handsome fortune being added to his address and education. Once in the course of the evening, at a crowded party, Lynn More found himself seated by this lady, who was evidently delighted with the situation of her rejected lover. Their conversation was for some time general, when the lady suddenly asked—"Do you think it possible, Mr. More, for persons to become so attached to new friends, as wholly to forget the old?" Circumstances alter cases, was what most any one would have answered, and Lynn More carelessly replied in these words. The lady blushed deeply, and was unable, from embarrassment, to continue any conversation, and Lynn More, not recalling that these were the words which had ended her refusal, was quite at a loss to account for the sudden change of manner. A beautiful girl approaching them, whom he had observed seated apparently alone, he rapidly bowed to the lady by her side, and passing to the lady of the house, was introduced to the stranger; seated by her side, he found her graceful and refined, as well as beautiful; and at the breaking up of the party, he offered her his protection home.—She quietly observed, upon Lynn More's asking her how she had enjoyed herself, that formerly such amusements had given her much pleasure, but now there was more pain than pleasure for her in her attendance. "Circumstances alter Cases, you know sir;" Lynn More thought sure enough circumstances made or unmade us, but he wondered much what the lovely girl who seemed hardly to have lived a score of years, meant by the expression. Next morning, he enquired of his hostess the history of the lady he escorted home. It was brief: Pride and poverty, sensitive nature, conflicting with the turmoil of the world. The lady was educated for a music teacher, but good situations are surest to fall to those who least deserve them, and in this possession, merit that has nothing but merit to commend itself, must stand aside for the proteges of wealth and fashion. Elles Dale learned the dress maker's trade, and every body said no one ever made such bewitching bodices and such beautiful fitting dresses; and while I think of it, mantua-makers are often, the most graceful little fairies I have ever met with. Lynn More married Ella Dale, and built a splendid house, and took the widow home to live, and found an occupation for the boys, and made his little wife as happy as wealth and sunshine, and the devotion of a generous heart could make a lovely and gifted woman, as Ella Dale was. Before some people had wondered whether it was proper to invite their dress makers to parties, and associate with them, or send them into the nursery to work, and to eat with the children; and sweet Ella Dale as graceful and gentle as she was, had not always been treated as a lady should be by some, who were now fawning for her attentions, and courting her society; but before, she was EllaDale, and went out sewing for two-and-six-pence a day; and now she was the wife of the richest man in Belville; and if occasionally some ill-natured person brought to recollection the former reception of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn More in the same society, people only looked wise and said, "Circumstances alter Cases."

☞ Horticulturists say that the best way to kill weeds in asparagus beds, is to water them liberally with beef or pork brine, or any salt brine. The salt kills the weeds, while it nourishes the asparagus which is a maritime plant, and grows the better for having salt.

☞ Those who will abandon a friend for one error, know little of human character, and prove that their hearts are as cold, as their judgments are weak.

☞ Two ignorant persons fell into a dispute about the native place of Jonah, who, as the clergyman told them in his text, or at least as they understood him, once swallowed a Whale. "I tell you," said one with great earnestness, "this Jonah was no Boston man; he was a Newfoundlander—a devil of a fellow for fish."

☞ False friendship, like the ivy, decays and ruins the wall it embraces; but true friendship gives new life and animation to the object it supports.—Burton.

RESPECTABLE CITY.—A late foreign paper tells us that

The city of Naples is the most thieving place on earth. The population is 400,000: viz. 100,000 thieves, 100,000 beggars, 100,000 soldiers and priests, and the balance decent people, who are made up of foreigners, (chiefly English,) respectable persons and shopmen, with the nobility and fishermen, who rank as the most honest of the Neapolitans.

☞ An exchange paper tells the following anecdote of a physician of the olden time: When a young man, he occupied a chamber separate from that of a married couple by a thin partition. One cold night he heard the rough voice of the husband grumble out, 'take away your hoofs!' to which the wife replied, in a querulous tone, 'Ah, you didn't speak so when we were first married—then you used to say to me, "take away your little hootsy-footsy-ootsys!"

☞ To cleanse the teeth and improve the breath, take four ounces of fresh prepared water, add one drachm of Peruvian, and wash the teeth with this water in the morning and evening, before breakfast and after supper. It will effectually destroy the tartar on the teeth, and remove the offensive smell arising from those that are decayed.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.
MONDAY, JUNE 8, 1846.

TERRIBLE FIRE IN WARREN, OHIO.—On Monday night last, the greater portion of the flourishing village of Warren was reduced to ashes. The fire broke out about 11 o'clock, and spread with fearful radidity. One whole square, in which were the Post-office, two printing offices, the Democrat and Herald, a large row of dry goods and business establishments, some twenty in number, was entirely consumed, together with barns, outhouses, &c. The entire number of buildings burned is estimated at nearly one hundred. The Cleveland Herald says:—A friend who was present at the conflagration, supposes the loss of property must be some $135,000—a loss proportionably more severe than the great Pittsburg fire. Many of the goods removed and piled in the public square, were either burned or much injured by water. The town was destitute of an efficient fire engine, or much of the loss might have been avoided. The insurance, it is said, was mostly Mutual.

THE UNITED STATES AND GREAT BRITAIN.—The President has transmitted a message to Congress, enclosing a despatch from Lord Aberdeen, from which it appears that the claims made by the two Governments upon each other, for a return of duties which had been levied in violation of the commercial convention of 1815, have been finally and satisfactorily adjusted.—The President says:—

"In making this communication, I deem it proper to express my satisfaction at the prompt manner in which the British Government has acceded to the suggestion of the Secretary of State, for a speedy termination of this affair."

The Union understands, upon inquiry at the State Department, that the amount reimbursed by this arrangement with the British Government in favor of American merchants, is between $400,000 and $500,000.

OREGON—IMPORTANT.—The Journal of Commerce says: "We learn from very good authority, that Mr. Pakenham has received instructions from his government by the Hibernia, to make a final overture for the amicable adjustment of the Oregon question. He is to offer, substantialy, the proposition suggested some time since by Mr. McLane, our Minister in London, to Lord Aberdeen, viz: lat. 49 as the basis, leaving to Great Britain the whole of Vancouver's Island, and the free navigation of the Columbia."

FROM NANTUCKET.—There was great excitement on the 4th. On that day, Barker Burrell, late cashier of the Manufacturers' and Mechanic's Bank, was arrested, on the complaint of two of the directors, on the charge of having embezzled the funds of the institution, to the amount of $130,000. No examination of evidence was had, and Mr. Burnell was required by Justice Whitman to give bonds to the amount of $25,000 for his appearance to take his trial at the Common Pleas in October. The bonds were given, and Mr. Burnell discharged from custody. William Dehon, Esq., of Boston, one of the receivers of the bank, appeared for the commonwealth, and Mr. Bunker for the defendant. An extra from the Mirror says a portion of the directors were also arrested for embezzlement, on complaint of Mr. Burnell; but the Inquirer of the 5th contradicts this.

"MR. RIDER'S compliments to the Editor, of the News, and begs of him to accept of the accompanying dish of Strawberries."

Most assuredly, Mr. RIDER, we will accept of them, and thank you a thousand times. The Strawberries were delicious, and how could they be otherwise, when they came from RIDER'S FRUIT BAZAR, where none but the very best sort of fruits, of all kinds, are kept. It would not be necessary to "beg" as very hard, to accept of just such a dish every day.

THE WEED.—At a meeting of one of the Presbyterian General Assemblies, last week, in Philadelphia, the Moderator, at the request of the Sexton and several members of the Assembly, gave the other members a set lecture, upon the impropriety and indecency of excessive tobacco chewing.

☞HON. LEMUEL H. ARNOLD arrived in Providence on Friday last, from Washington.

☞We shall publish an interesting sketch of one of Mr. Eddy's Assemblies, to-morrow.

☞It is said that some of the men, who have been raised for the Rio Grande, will be sent on the expedition against Sante Fe.

☞Miss McBride, the actress, is dead.—She was formerly attached to the Park Theatre.

☞The Town Council of Bristol, have appointed a committee of arrangements for the appropriate celebration of the approaching 4th of July. This is right, and it should be done everywhere.

THE MORMON TEMPLE.—The Quincy Whig learns that the Nauvoo Temple has been purchased by a Methodist association, for $150,000.

☞The first Sabbath of July next has been set apart throughout all the Presbyterian Congregations, as a day of humiliation and prayer, in view of the present warlike crisis of our National affairs.

THE LADIES VOLUNTEERING.—The ladies of Louisville, Ky., have tendered their services, through the Hon. John Joyce, to Col. Ormsby, commander of the Louisville Legion, to make such garments as may be required by the troops. One of them has already cut up three flannel petticoats, to make cannon cartridges with.

☞The Providence Temperance Pledge thinks that if licenses are granted in this town, for the sale of ardent spirits, that we shall want a larger building than the Ocean House, to put the killed and wounded in.

☞We see it stated in several of our exchanges, that General Scott visited Fort Adams, in this harbor, one day last week.—This is news to the citizens of Newport, as we have not seen or heard of Gen. Scott, this way, for more than two years.

☞The Cork papers are very liberal in the bestowal of approbation upon Mr. Forrest. The play of "Aylmere," by Judge Conrad, of Philadelphia, is also very highly spoken of.

☞Hon. Archibald Yell, member of Congress from Arkansas, is about leaving his seat, to join the Regiment from his State, for Mexico.

☞The Boston Post states that Seth Luther leaves that city to-morrow, for General Taylor's camp.

AN ATTEMPT TO ROB A BANK.—We learn from a correspondent at Winchester, Virginia, that a bold attempt was made on Monday night, to break into the Farmers' Bank, at that place, but without success.

☞Major Warren reports from Nauvoo, that "1617 Mormons had left Hancock county, Illinois," two weeks ago, "to join the California expedition."

☞The United States contains 80,000 square miles of coal, which is about sixteen times as great as the coal measures of Europe.

☞The late war movements on the Rio Grande have almost entirely suspended business in New Bedford. About 60 ships are hauled up, and none are fitting out.

☞The Magnetic Telegraph is in operation between Albany and Rochester.

☞The law of New Jersey, which imposes a tax of ten cents on every passenger passing over the railroad routes through that State, brought last year about $60,000.

☞The Charleston News, speaking of the yellow fever of Mexico, says that it does not, in its range of power, extend more than from 30 to 60 miles from the sea coast. The interior is never invaded by it. The American army, from its present local position, or in its progress through the interior, could not be subjected to the attacks of the malaria, engendered by the swamps of Mexico. Its enemy will not be vomito, but wide deserts, devoid of the means of subsistence for an army.

☞The corporation of Trinity Church, New York, have voted that, after supplying the old pew holders, the rest of the pews shall be free. The Church is to be open daily for religious services.

GREAT ARRIVALS.—Three thousand two hundred and forty-two passengers were reported at the N. Y. Custom House, on Tuesday, as arrived in two days.

☞The locuste, after 17 years absence, have reappeared at Clarksburg, Va.

☞Rev. Henry Giles is lecturing at Charleston, S. C.

MR. EDITOR:—Since nineteen, against seventeen, (out of the twelve hundred voters of Newport,) have instructed the Town Council to grant such number of Licenses for the sale of spirituous liquors, the present year, as in their judgment may be proper; and also, to fix the price of such Licenses, it may not be amiss to remind those gentlemen, that, as the great object of all legislation, in reference to this business, has been to lessen the consumption, rather than to raise a revenue; it will meet the views of their constituents, (at least such of them as are not radical,) to have the price of a License fixed so high, as to be out of the reach of such retailers, as are irresponsible, and unknown to our citizens. It is believed that, if the price be fixed at Fifty Dollars, not more than twenty or twenty-five persons, will be licensed, either of which number, will be quite sufficient for the accommodation of the people, and enable those who take a License, by their increase of business, easily to pay the expense. Fifty dollars, certainly is but a small sum for such a privilege, and can be much more easily paid by twenty individuals, having all the trade, than twenty dollars can be, if there should be forty to share it. If fifty dollars should be fixed upon as the price, and the worthy officer just appointed to prosecute all who sell without authority, shall be as faithful to his duties, as those best acquainted with him expect, there is no doubt, that in a very short time, these places, kept by strangers and foreigners, on the wharves, and in shantees, in the suburbs of our town, will soon be closed.

That the price may be fixed at this, and none but men of good morals may be licensed, is the wish of MANY.

IRELAND AND OREGON.—The Dublin Nation, the great liberal organ, says, in one of its late numbers: "The fact which made, and holds together, and protects the great American Republic, is, that it does what it says it will do. Whatever has been the ferment of individuals, it has not been a braggart nation. When it becomes so—when its vow is made to-day and broken to-morrow—when its passion becomes declamation—when its rage becomes stage trick—when Washington becomes a prompter's whisper, and Bunker's Hill a blue squid—then the republic will fall together like a sunless world, and the despots of Europe, whom first it made to feel, will riot in its anarchy." The editor then refers to "the notice," and the American claim to Oregon, and says: "We are for America, because we do not wish to see a Canada on the northwest of the American continent, and for other reasons."

A still greater revolution in the sale of READY MADE CLOTHING. New Store and new Goods, at the old stand, where the public have been favored with so many good bargains, 91 Thames street, one door north of Messrs. W. B. & E. J. SWAN'S.

THE PROPRIETOR of this Establishment has the pleasure of informing the people of Newport and its vicinity, that he has leased the new and commodious store, 91 Thames street, for the purpose of carrying on the Ready Made Clothing Business, where the public may be assured that they will always find on hand the largest assortment of Clothing and Furnishing Goods in the place, as well as the lowest prices. If I can but induce the people to call upon me, I will give them the most positive proof of the truth of this assertion, as I am determined to secure for the United States Clothing Store a tremendous run of custom, and, aware as I am, that competition is so severe, that the only mode of success is to offer my Goods at a small advance on Cost. Will the people call upon me? I will give them the most positive and pleasing evidence of what I say; still more, I will not urge them with undue persuasion to purchase what they do not want. A valuable invention—a Sovereign remedy—a sure protection against Musquetoes and other poisonous insects.

RADWAY'S CHINESE MEDICATED SOAP, may truly be said to be one of the most valuable, as well as the most scientific and useful invention for the health, comfort, and convenience of the human family, that mankind has ever been blessed with. As an alleviator and preventer of pain, or irritation occasioned by the bites or stings of Musquetoes, or other poisonous insects, this invaluable Soap is indeed a treasure. By applying it to the parts affected, it immediately abstracts the poison, allays the irritation, and protects the sufferer from all further annoyance from these troublesome insects. TO THE LADIES.

We would particularly recommend this inestimable Soap to their notice. It is equally adapted to all toilet purposes, and is far superior, as a purifier of the skin, to all Powders, under whatever name they may be called, as it is for medicinal applications; for while it softens and beautifies the complexion, it removes every vestage of Tan, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, and all other blemishes of the skin, and, in fact, all cutaneous eruptions. No lady's toilet is complete without this valuable Soap; and no other article of the Toilet is required, when you have this in your possession. None are so beautiful, but what this Soap will improve. For sale in Newport by R. J. TAYLOR. may 25 3m1-19

HOUSE, TO LET.

"Strange that a harp of thousand strings
Should keep in tune so long."

THE subscriber has several chambers to let in his house which is beautifully located directly opposite Trinity Church Burying Ground; he will rent the rooms with furniture, or without, as may best suit the tenant. There is, probably, no more desirable spot in Newport, for those whose souls are not entirely steeped in sin, and wrapped up in the flimpsy veil of this world's delusion; the occupant may sit at the window, and view the last home of man in all its mysterious and solemn grandeur,—and seriously reflect upon the great uncertainty of all things human. Here he can commune with himself, and meditate, in full view of the grave yard, on the final consummation of all things, and anticipate that universal crash, when the earth shall be burned up, and the heavens be rolled together as a scroll. We must reflect upon these things here, and be prepared with our passport when we meet the last Tyler, or we shall receive the fatal mark of the black brush; why, land! what is a few day's sojourn in this miserable world, compared to a high seat in the Celestial Lodge above, where the Knighthood will be gathered in the pure robes of innocence and beauty!

In order to secure the chambers, early application should be made, to
